CONFER ABOUT COTTON.

AT THE CITY OF MEMPHIS

W. J. Crawford of the Bluff City is Chosen Temporary Chairman and Hon. Harvie Jordan Permanent Presiding Officer—Number of Addresses.

Memphis, Nov. 10.—The Southern Cotton conference was called to order in the Auditorium this morning.

Although the weather was threatening the building was well filled with delegates and visitors.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Governor Patterson and Mayor Malone on behalf of Tennessee and Memphis. Other addresses were delivered by S. M. Williamson of the Business Men's club, R. S. Bryan of the cotton exchange and W. A. Percy, representing the merchants' exchange.

Responses were made by Charles Gay of Montgomery (Ala.) and Harvie Jordan, president of the Cotton Growers' association.

Temporary organization was perfected by the selection of W. J. Crawford of Memphis as chairman and George Hoppe of Memphis and W. H.
Gilbert of Chiclot, Ark., secretaries.
Harvie Jordan was named as permanent chairman and the temporary secretaries made permanent.

An address by Bishop Gailor of the Episcopal diocese of Tennessee concluded the morning session.

The afternoon session was taken up with addresses, which included those of Governor Noel of Mississippi and Lee Richardson, vice president of the American National bank of Vicksburg, Miss.

cently finished a three-year term.

WARNING FROM BLACK.

Race War Predicted by an Unknown Writer.

Dallas, Nov. 10.—J. P. Alexander, a Dallas detective, is in receipt of a communication which is now in the possession of Chief of Police Brandenburg, which, if carried into execution, means a race war. Dreadful things are threatened in the document, which consists of five sheets of tablet paper, written with a pencil and unsigned.

In the epistle, the spelling of which could be vastly improved upon, the man alleges wrongs which the writer claims the blacks have had to suffer at the hand of the whites are recited.
The author intimates that when trouble does begin the peace officers will be the first persons to have visited upon them the vengeance of the negroes.

An awful massacre is predicted, in which one of the races must be exterminated. It is declared the negro has had trouble from Kentucky to the Gulf of Mexico and has taken it slow, "and I cannot see how the poor negro stood it as long as he has. They are compelled to do something, as the cruelty from the whites is more than they can bear."

The chief of police thinks a negro who has caused the police considerable trouble is the author.

Friends Predict Clear Sailing.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Following the arrival in the city of Republican members of the ways and means committee of the house for tariff hearing and many other Republican congressmen to attend to departmental business, the selection of the speaker at the Sixty-first congress is a subject of the keenest interest. None of the arrivals care to come out openly in opposition to the re-election of Speaker Cannon, while members who have been closely allied with Mr. Cannon during his occupancy of the speaker's chair assert positively that there will be no opposition to him by the time the Republicans to meet in caucus.

MESSAGES POUR IN.

Tremendous Sensation Results
From Carmack Tragedy.

Nashville, Nov. 10.—By wire and by mail messenger come in from various sections, testifying to the tremendous sensation caused all over Tennessee and throughout the south over the killing of former Senator Carmack by Robin Cooper in a street duel at this city.

Carmack's brilliant career as United States senator from Tennessee made him one of the best known national figures. Colonel Duncan Cooper, father of young Robin Cooper, and who was with his son when the duel occurred, has an extensive acquaintance and a legion of friends both in his own and various other states.

With constantly increasing crowds about it and in the neighborhood the body of Mr. Carmack lay where he fell for half an hour before it was removed to a funeral undertaking establishment. There it was prepared for burial and then removed to the home of Frank Lander, business manager of the Tennessean. The remains were sent to Columbia for interment. Mr. Carmack married at Columbia and made that city his home until he went with the Tennessean.
Mrs. Carmack had not yet become a resident of Nashville. Although almost prostrated she came down Monday night and returned with the remains.

After the shooting the Coopers repaired to a nearby physician, where young Cooper's wound, which was slight, was dressed, and he and his father were placed under arrest.

Colonel Cooper was taken to police headquarters and after a long conference with his attorney, James Bradford, and a few other friends, retired and was soon asleep. Two warrants sworn out against him—one "accessory to murder" and the other, "carrying a pistol." In the first instance the prosecutor is Mrs. E. M. Carmack; in the latter, it is the mayor and the city council.

In the doctor's office Robin Cooper turned his revolver over to Patrolman Vaughn. One empty shell dropped out of the magazine when it was un-breached. It is an automatic magazine revolver and it is not known how many shots had been fired. Two chambers of the revolver of Senator Carmack's revolver were empty.

Colonel Cooper waived preliminary examination and was remanded to jail without bond. Robin Cooper is still in the hospital.

Appropriates Three Million.

Austin, Nov. 10.—The state department of agriculture gave out a statement showing the total number of bales of cotton ginned for October to be 78,000, according to ginners' reports. This makes a total of 1,594,000 bales so far ginned. This is estimated to be between 65 and 70 per cent of the total crop of the state.
As yet about 70 per cent of Texas ginners have reported, the department estimates that the crop this season will be approximately 3,000,000 bales.

BRYAN MEDICAL INSTITUTE.

Thoroughly Equipped Specialists Want to Treat Widow and Orphans Free of Charge—Chronic Cases Treated.

Dr. J. S. Paul and staff of specialists have opened up the Bryan Medical Institute in the Smith building.
These specialists are thoroughly equipped to handle any and all cases, both special and chronic, it matters not of how long standing. Dr. J. S.
Paul, the chief examining physician and surgeon, has had a wide and thorough experience in chronic and deep-seated diseases of men, women and children, and has a reputation of curing more diseases than any other man of his age in the South. These pecialists of the Bryan Medical Institute are offering to the suffering humanity of Bryan and vicinity something that has never been offered before in the way of superior skill in their special treatment of all old, standing chronic diseases. These specialists are curing hundreds of despondent people who have utterly given up, never to be cured. This is an age of specialists. To successfully handle and understand these chronic and special diseases one must first understand and qualify himself in order to cure all chronic diseases. We know special diseases and how to cure them.
We have cured thousands where others have failed. Why? Because we have been doing nothing but special work for years. Dr. Paul and staff have permanently located here, and will take no incurable cases. We have come to stay and stand by our work. It costs you nothing to consult these specialists and they will tell you at once whether your case can be cured or not. Every suffered can well afford to take advantage of this generous offer. It matters not what your circumstances are. There has already been some of the free cases taken and all those suffering from any disease that wish to get in our cheap or free rate come right on in now, before it is too late.

Dr. Paul requests the good citizens of Bryan and county to influence or place him in connection with some poor widow lady or any orphans that are suffering from any chronic disease to come and take advantage of the free treatments, for it is Dr. Paul's greatest desire to give his free aid to those who really need it. They will get the same treatment as if they were paying the highest fee for their treatment. Dr. Paul, being a stranger in Bryan, asks that the good citizens do not overlook this request. We cure catarrh, catarrhal deafness, rheumatism in all of its stages and forms, kidney, liver and stomach troubles, chronic constipation, female trouble (we care not how long standing) in any of its forms; a positive cure for epilepsy, using no chlorals or opiates. We also cure piles without the aid of a knife. Our treatment is perfectly harmless, and will not detain you from your business or work. We cure all venereal diseases and special diseases of men and women.

Baseball Men in Session.
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10.—Minor league baseball owners and patrons will be particularly interested in the annual meeting of the National Association of Baseball clubs, the great minor league organization, which began at the Auditorium Annex today. There is some talk of redistricting the minor league territory, and the matter may be discussed at the present meeting, though it is not at all probable that any action toward redistricting will be taken. There is no war talk this year and all indications point to a harmonious session. The re-election of President Pat Powers is assured.

Poetry Not Appreciated.
It is a mistake to believe, says the Pittsburg Post, that there is not just as good poetry turned out in the United States now as in those far off days. The Post adds: "Twenty years ago some publishing house, we do not recall the name, issued a volume entitled 'The Humbler Poets,' which was a collection of verse from persons unknown, much of it culled from the newspapers. Rarely will be found crowded into one small volume such a meritorious collection. One can scarcely pick up a newspaper today without finding at least one poem that is worthy of preservation. It is the peculiarity of the age that makes poetry so little appreciated. Sentiment exists the same today as it ever has and ever will. Love is the same, nature is the same, and there are many, instead of few, who are able to stir the emotions with their verse.
They who weep because this is not an age of poetry are the ones who are constantly wishing for the 'good old days' that exist only in fancy. There are no days so good as these."

CALLAHAN DRAMATIC CO.

Gives General Satisfaction at the Grand.—Good Bill Tonight.
The Callahan Dramatic company opened a three nights' engagement at the Grand opera house Monday night with a beautiful, highly costumed production entitled "Inez, or a Romance of Old Mexico," a well-acted romantic melo-drama taken during the reign of the ill-fated emperor, Maximilian.

The costumes worn in the play were very elaborate and true to the style of dress as worn during those days of trouble. The play was received with more than a passing interest by a fair sized audience.

Tuesday night the company appeared in a New York society drama, entitled "An Orphan's Prayer, or Grit the Newsboy," a well-written play far above the conventional society drama of today. This play deserves more than ordinary comment, as it is a far heavier melo-drama than is usually produced by many repertoire companies. The plot is written around the lives of three of New York's street waifs, and is thoroughly developed as the play progresses. The piece took more thoroughly with a well-pleased audience if possible, than did the opening bill.

The company will close their engagement Wednesday night with one of the most beautiful temperance plays that has ever been staged, entitled "The Moonshiners of the Ozarks." This play will be more on the sensational order than either of the others. The plot deals with the illicit whiskey distillers of the Ozark mountains, and Mr. Callahan announces this as his company's feature play. On the whole the general opinion of our people is that the Callahan Dramatic company is one of unusual merit, and deserves every word of praise said in its favor. The company came here well recommended and will go away as they came. We hope to see the show billed here at some future date.

"UNCLE JOE" ON HAND.

Pumpkins and Cornstalks Lead Him Into Rhapsody.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon came to town and had an old time romp with the advertisement writers at the Harvest Home dinner of their association. Amid the cornstalks and pumpkins and surrounded by men in jumpers and jeans the speaker of the house cut loose and helped whoop it up for prosperity.

Your Uncle Joe, who was never in finer fettle, proceeded in his speech to touch up all the public men, issues and institutions that seemed to require attention and then to cap the climax drew an imaginary bow across imaginary fiddlestrings while he sang the refrain of an old-fashioned country song.

The speaker had fired a shot at Roosevelt and two shots at Bryan and had run the gamut several times from politics to poetry when, gazing with misty eyes on the pumpkins and cornstalks he dropped into a rhapsody of farm days of another generation. In rhythmic prose he sketched a picture of a bob sled crowded with boys and girls beneath buffalo robes speeding over the snowy roads to the cabin of a distant farmer, there to trip the light fantastic and moneymusk all night on the puncheon of the floor.

"How well I still can hear the voice of that fiddler, now dead and gone, for the fiddlers sang as well as played in those old days," exclaimed "Uncle Joe." "How well I can hear him singing that old song:

"O, lee, lee, lo, O, lee, lee, lo,

"My dear honey:

"O, lee, lee, lo, O, lee, lee, lo,

"I love you more than money."

of appeals. It is authoritatively stated the government will not attempt to bring the whole matter before the supreme court on a writ of certiorari.

Former Resident of Honduras.

Cooper, who was with his son, Robin, at the time of the shooting of ex-Senator Carmack, formerly resided in Honduras. He was manager of the later at Tegucigalpa.

Duncan Cooper, Jr., son of Colonel Cooper, who was at Mobile at the time of the shooting, left for Nashville at once. The Coopers have a number of relatives living here.

Quieting Him Down.
A farmer sued a cattle dealer for damages in the local county court.

"When I bought the bull," said the complainant, "he told me it was gentle and perfectly harmless—a child could play with it, in fact. Half an hour after I got the animal home he disabled a couple of my farm hands and then turned on me."

"Perhaps the animal was excited by his strange surroundings," suggested his honor. "Is he quiet enough now?"

"Well, yes; but you see—"

"Ah," remarked the defendant, "then my description was correct, after all.
I said if he did get excited at first he would quiet down."

"Yes," responded the plaintiff grimly, "but you didn't tell me I should have to shoot the beggar to quiet him down. That's what I had to do!"—

A Magnificent Battleship.

The North Dakota is a sister ship of the Delaware, which is under construction at Newport News. The initial outlay for the huge battleship was $10,000,000. Her guns alone will cost about a million. She will have a long forecastle deck, extending from the bow almost to the center of the ship. The ten twelve-inch guns will be arranged in five turrets, two to a turret, the forward turret being so located that the axes of its guns will be twenty-four feet above the water line, and just abaft this turret will be another, the barbette of which will be of sufficient height for its guns to clear the roof of the forward turret.

Abaft the break of the forecastle deck, and also situated on the axis of the ship, will be two more twelve-inch gun turrets, the guns of the forward turret in this pair firing over the roof of the after turret. Abaft and near the stern will be the fifth and last of the big turrets. Naval men declare that no navy in the world will possess a ship of the Dreadnaught type in which the guns are better arranged.

For repelling torpedo attack, the North Dakota will carry a secondary battery of fourteen five-inch guns. These guns are all to be mounted broadside.

The vessel will be driven by turbines of 25,000 combined horsepower. These powerful turbines must drive the battleship through the water at the rate of at least 21 knots an hour, on the four hours' trial run, if the contract is to be fulfilled. The officials of the company confidently assert that they will be able to do this and to go the government one better, making at least 22 knots speed. If this can be done it will be a record to be proud of, for it will eclipse the present world's record of the Dreadnaught, 21 knots, and that, too, for a considerably larger ship.

The length of the North Dakota is 510 feet and beam 85 feet. Her complement will consist of nearly 900 officers and men.

For Rent—Mrs. H. E. White home. J. Webb Howell.

Named by North Dakota Girl.

Shortly before the hour set for the launching, while the wedges were being driven in to lift the weight from the ground to the sliding ways, the naming party, led by Rear Admiral Bowles, president of the shipbuilding company, made its way through the crowd and ascended the launching stand. The sponsor, Miss Mary Benton, daughter of Col. John D. Benton of Fargo, N. D., received an ovation, as did also Governor John Burke and other members of the North Dakota party.

The launch of the big vessel was entirely successful, and was witnessed by an immense crowd. When the word was given and the great mass of steel began to move majestically down the greased ways for the initial plunge into its native element, Miss Benton dashed against the prow a bottle of wine decorated with the national colors. As she did so she exclaimed, in firm tones:

"I christen thee North Dakota!"

A great wave of enthusiasm swept over the crowd of spectators as the christening ceremony was performed. Down in the crowd and up on the stand men and women waved hats and handkerchiefs, while thousands of throats joined in the wild cheering which greeted the new queen of the seas. Shrill whistle blasts from the near-by factories and the fleet of tug boats assembled in the river joined in the chorus, and almost drowned the notes of the national anthem, valiantly played by the band.

Pups, Cats and Colt Communicate Hydrophobia to Several Persons.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10.—Eight children bitten by pups which had been fed by a mother afflicted by rabies will reach here from Terre Haute today for treatment at the Pasteur Institute. The mother dog was killed, not because she was thought to be mad, but because it was believed she had an incurable ailment. The ten pups were distributed among neighbors.

Peter Grosse, 12 years old, one of the boys bitten by the pups, died last Friday. The other victims are Anna and Harry Grosse, his sister and brother; Cella, a cousin; Charles, John and Lula Gary, Lena and Walter Endicott. The children range in age from 2 to 4 years. The families are poor and $600 was raised by popular subscription to send the children here.

DECREASE OF FORCE.

Treasurer Sparks Favors the Letting Out of Three of the Clerks.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 10.—In his annual report to Governor Campbell State Treasurer Sparks makes the unusual recommendation of a decrease of office force by cutting out three clerks whose aggregate salary is $3,150 annually. Instead of these three regular clerks he asks for an additional appropriation of $1,300 to add to the $1,200 already allowed to pay for extra service to issue school land receipts during the busy season, which is only for three months. Thus he saves the state $1,800 a year, and says he can get better service. He reports that while the financial panic was on the wisdom of the state depository laws shows the state had $1,400,000 in circulation which would otherwise be locked up. The report shows a balance of $888,986 to the credit of general revenue funds and $53,510,986 to the credit of permanent school fund in cash, bonds and other securities.

The Cause of It.

Two negro citizens were discussing the cause of the present hard times a few days ago, when one of them said he couldn't understand why labor was so low, money so hard to get hold of and everything he had to buy was so high. The other enlightened him in this wise: "Dat's easy enough to 'splain; you see Mr. Rosenfeldt took er notion about er year ago to go b'ar hunting, and when he left he put old man Cleveland in charge of de government, and he done jest played de devil wid things generally."

That's about as sound reasoning, however, as some used by a well-known Republican orator a few nights ago, when he declared that "talk about guaranteeing bank deposits was all right if Taft was elected," but, he argued, "there'll be no deposits to guarantee if Bryan is elected." He meant, doubtless, for people dependant upon federal jobs, like himself, however.

[Dr. Cavitt handed the above to The Eagle. It is as clear as mud and ought to be satisfactory.]

Precooling.

The first car of fruit ever shipped from the Pacific to the Atlantic without a single re-icing en route has reached New York as fresh and wholesome as the day of picking and packing. When it is considered that re-icing during the transcontinental movement of a car involves an expense to the shipper approximating more than $100, the economic importance of this event is understood. "Precooling" is the natural method. By a vacuum process the natural heat of the fruit is withdrawn before loading into a refrigerator car with 1,000 pounds of ice in the bunkers. On this test run a temperatures of 34 degrees was maintained, and only 250 pounds of ice had melted up to the time the car was checked through the Chicago yards. Meanwhile Mr. Harriman is constructing two precooling plants at important shipping points in California which will save the shipper possibly $60 a car and put his products on the market in perfect condition. Later on Texas may market its peach and tomato crops in precooled cars.—Fort Worth Star.

Nobody can give a good reason why a woman hasn't as much right to smoke and drink and cuss as a man has, but it looks a darned sight worse in a woman. That is because we are used to seeing respectable women act decently, while respectable men sometimes don't.

BEING THE FIRST ANNUAL HOLIDAY TOUR OF THE COWBOYS, COW-GIRLS AND INDIANS OF THE MOST FAMOUS RANCH IN THE WORLD, AND COMPOSED SOLELY OF OKLAHOMA'S PRAIRIE FEATURES AND FIGURES

The only exposition of Western border life of its original kind and scope, by very nature and source impossible of duplication or imitation.

A prodigious consolidation of the two 101 Ranch Shows, one of which proved the triumphant feature of the Jamestown National Exposition, and the other for two months the legitimate and conceded AMUSEMENT SENSATION OF NEW YORK CITY

Cowboys, Wild West Girls, Vaqueros, Senoritas, Guardias Rurales, Men and Women Sharpshooters, Champions of the Lariat, Rough Riders, Line Riders, Range Riders, Pony Express Veterans, Pioneers, Trappers, Hunters, Scouts, Heroes and Old Timers of the Wilderness, Exploiters, Bull Fighters, Steer Throwers and Steer Tiers, Horse Wranglers, Buffaloes, Long-horned Texas Cattle, Bucking Bronchos and Mustangs, Cowponies, Paintponies, and all other real, actual, genuine, simon-pure denizens of the cow-camp and range, reproducing the Sports, Frolics, Games, Round-ups, Gallantries, Hardships, Perils, Combats, Adventures and Romantic Daily Happenings of their lives. Everything except a Tenderfoot!

Indians fresh from Camp-fire and Council, making their first acquaintance with Pale-face Civilization, in Fantastic Native Accommodations and Paint, and exhibiting their War Dances and other Weird Rites and Ceremonies, Pastimes, Savageries, Horsemanship, Bow and Arrow Skill, Methods of Hunting, Trailing, Trapping and Ambushing. Exuberant Western movement pervades our every long and varied programme number. Every act and action is typical of the Ranch and Range. Without Circus, Vaudeville or Theatrical adjunct or atmosphere.

BRYAN, TEXAS, NOV. 11, 1908.

A good rain would be a most welcome visitation. Gardeners need it in their business.

A few centuries ago H. Clay Pierce would have been loaded with chains and forced to march on foot between two files of bayonets.

Taft will put in the winter practicing athletics in the hope of developing sufficient muscle to enable him to wield the big stick.

Every man whose name was on the Democratic ticket in Brazos county was elected. Bryan's and Kern's names were not on the ticket.

West Virginia has forgotten the election. The burning question there is, Will the Duke of Abruzzi wed the daughter of Chevalier Elkins.

It is to be hoped those conventions at Memphis and New Orleans will succeed in putting the uplift under the price of cotton.

Any kind of a leguminous crop, such as peas, alfalfa, clover or peanuts, is a machine for extracting fertility from the air and giving it to the soil.

There is every reason to believe the price of cotton will go up. Every farmer who is not compelled to sell should hold for a better price than he can get now.

The successful business men is all the while looking ahead. The present needs attention, but the most important part of every business is planning a line of work for the year ahead. This applies to the farmer especially.

The Beaumont Enterprise is acquiring the tobacco habit. It has an editorial on the subject every day. It is not a bad habit if it succeeds in persuading the farmers of South-east Texas to raise tobacco.

The red and white went down in defeat at Houston. "Sweet are the uses of adversity, which, like a toad, ugly and venomous, wears yet a precious jewel in his head." Get used to it while you are young and it won't hurt so bad when you are old.

Senator Claud Hudspeth of the Twenty-fifth district is the Davy Crockett of Texas statesmen. He is going after a wolf scalp bounty when the legislature meets, and he has a way of generally getting what he goes after.

The difference between Morse and hundreds of other highflyers in New York finance is that he disobeyed the eleventh commandment: "Don't get found out." It seems hard to him, of course, that he must go to the pen while others not less guilty go free.

SEALE & CAPPS.

William J. Bryan's Favorite Hymn.
The music for this hymn may be obtained from the Hope Publishing company, 228 Wabash avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

I'LL GO WHERE YOU WANT ME TO GO.

It may not be on the mountain's height,
Or o'er the stormy sea;
It may not be at the battle's front
My Lord will have need of me;
But, if by a still, small voice He calls
To paths that I do not know, I'll answer, dear Lord, with my hand in Thine,
I'll go where you want me to go.

Chorus—
I'll go where you want me to go,
dear Lord,
Over mountain, or plain, or sea;
I'll say what you want me to say,
dear Lord,
I'll be what you want me to be.

Perhaps today there are loving words Which Jesus would have me speak—
There may be now in the paths of sin Some wand'rer whom I should seek—

O Savior, if Thou wilt be my guide,
Tho' dark and rugged the way,
My voice shall echo Thy message sweet,
I'll say what you want me to say.

There's surely somewhere a lowly place,
In earth's harvest fields so wide—
Where I may labor thro' life's short day

For Jesus, the crucified—
So trusting my all to Thy tender care,
And knowing Thou lovest me,
I'll do Thy will with a heart sincere,
I'll be what you want me to be.
—The Commoner.

There is no future for the farmer who is unable to adapt himself to changing conditions. If he knows nothing but cotton and is unwilling to learn anything else, it makes little difference whether he stays here or goes elsewhere; his case is hopeless anywhere. He may manage to live, but that is the best that can be expected of him.

Bucks Stove Case Delayed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—The case of President Samuel Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison and Vice-President John Mitchell, all of the American Federation of Labor, and who are charged with contempt of court, was called today in the district supreme court. The case grows out of a suit for injunction instituted against the labor officials by the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis. Owing to the absence of President Gompers and Secretary Morrison in Denver, where they are attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, a further delay in the hearing of the contempt proceedings is likely.

For Bishop of Washington.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—For the fourth time the Episcopal diocesan convention met in Trinity church today to elect a bishop of Washington to succeed the late Bishop Satterlee. Among those discussed for the honor are Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold, bishop of Salina, Kas.; Rev. Dr. Floyd Tompkins, rector of Holy Trinity church, Philadelphia; Rev. C. L. Slatery of Springfield, Mass.; Rev. Frank DuMoulin, dean of the cathedral at Cleveland, Ohio, and Rev. Dr. H. Lubbeck of New York city.

The three recent declinations of outside men elected to the bishopric has increased the talk of electing a local rector to the episcopate.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

John Drew has announced his intention of returning to Shakespearean comedy within the next two years.

A comedy called "The Marriage of the Star," by Alexander Bisson, author of "The Masked Ball" and other plays, will soon be produced in this country.

Gertrude Quinlan has made a favorable vaudeville debut in Boston in a sketch entitled "Zaba's Hit," by Edith Ellis Baker.

Arnold Daly and his company of "Vaudevillians" made quite a hit in the playlet by Mark Twain, entitled "Becoming an Editor," in a New York theater recently.

Charles Frohman has accepted a new play by Clyde Fitch, entitled "The Happy Marriage," which will be produced in New York with Doris Keane and in London with Mary Moore in the leading part.

"The Revelation," the first in "the cycle" written by the Reverend Henry Knott, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, Ravenswood, Ill., will be produced in Elgin, Ill., on November 21 for the first time. Miss Mary Shaw will play the leading female role.

"Mike" Donlin, the former captain and heavy batter of the Giants, supported by his wife, Miss Mabel Hite, and company, is in vaudeville now and has made a great hit upon his first appearance in Vincent Bryan's one-act musical comedy skit, "Stealing Home."

The Shuberts are extremely busy just now preparing for the production, in the near future, of several new plays, which have been accepted by them. Among them are "Havana," "The Blue Mouse," "The Goddess of Reason," "The Vampire" and "The Paradise of Mahomet." The rehearsals have already begun.

Mary Mannerling has opened her season a few days ago in a new play by Edwin Tilton, entitled "The Struggle," which tells the story of a woman who endeavors to blot out her past. The play, which contains many strongly dramatic scenes, is said to be well written and the critics gave it considerable praise. The play is soon to be brought to New York for the final test and, if successful, will be retained on the boards for the rest of the season.

Woman Receives Hero Medal.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 10.—Mrs. Marie V. B. Langdon, wife of a settler at Talma, Chelan county, Wash., has been awarded a silver medal by the Carnegie hero fund commission for bravery displayed at the risk of her own life in saving Mrs. Jacques and two helpless children from death by freezing in the snow and ice crusts on the north bank of Lake Chelan, west of Spokane, last January. The heroic act was performed during a cold night, after Mrs. Jacques and her little children had been driven from their home by fire. The nearest point was the Langdon home, three-quarters of a mile away, toward which the half-frozen mother and three children crept in the face of a blinding storm, clad only in their night clothes. Mrs. Langdon heard the woman's cries, and, dressing herself and strapping on a pair of snow shoes, she went to the rescue. She succeeded in saving the woman and two children, the third perishing before she could make the final trip. Mrs. Langdon's hands and feet were frozen and she collapsed after bringing the child's body to a place of safety. F. M. Wilmot, manager of the commission, who made a trip across the continent to certify these facts, said that the task undertaken by Mrs. Langdon, who is a little woman, would test the nerves of a strong man.

SCHOOL TAX AMENDMENT.

More Votes for Than Against, But Not a Majority of All Votes Cast.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 10.—The question as to whether or not the constitutional amendment permitting the levying of a 50 cent tax on the $100 valuation of property by a majority vote of any common school district, may have to be finally determined in the courts of the state. School men generally over the state, including Prof. R. B. Cousins, state superintendent of public instruction, maintain that the proposed amendment prevailed at the election held last Tuesday, while the contention has been raised by a certain North Texas newspaper that the amendment failed. It is claimed by this newspaper that it requires a majority of the total votes at the recent election for governor or other official which received the maximum of the votes, while the schoolmen and the state department of education are of the opinion and belief that it only requires a majority of the votes cast for that particular amendment in order for it to carry.

The governor in due time will have to issue his proclamation announcing the adoption of rejection of the amendments and this may settle the question. Unless it does, Superintendent Cousins said the matter would be taken into the courts. He replied that this was for the attorney they would employ to decide. Professor Cousins maintains that the language of the constitution is clear and plain on this question as to a majority of the votes cast for an amendment and he cannot see how a different construction can be placed on the constitution with the hope that it will be upheld.

TO REPEAL JUTE TAX.

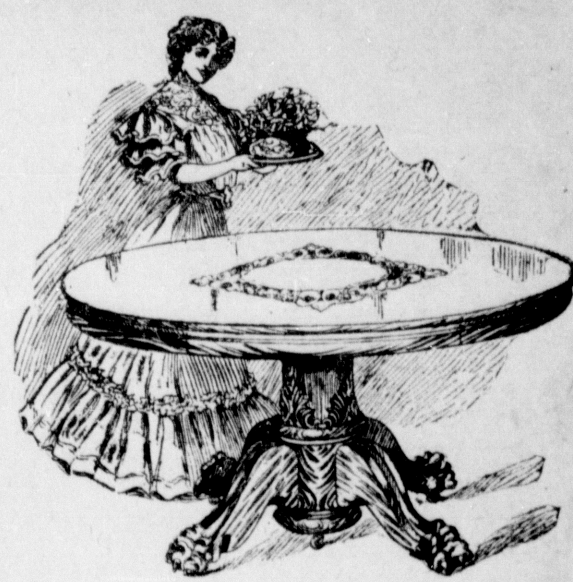

New Orleans Cotton Exchange Will Appeal to Congress.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 10.—The New Orleans Cotton Exchange passed resolutions calling upon congress to repeal the present tariff on jute bagging used for baling cotton.

"This tax is a direct burden on the cotton raising industry of the South for the benefit of a few manufacturers who are thus enabled to thrive at the expense of the most important class of agriculturists in this country," declares the resolution.

You can get them at Coulter's.

Mrs. S. K. Kelly of Kurten was a business visitor to the city Tuesday morning.

The local talent entertainment, Union Depot, to be given in the opera house Friday night, November 13th, for the benefit of the U. D. C., will be the finest and most interesting entertainment ever given in Bryan. The never-quit Mrs. Chattermuch will be there, gossiping with Mrs. Butinsky, and the ever-new subject of the lovely weather, the newfangled hats, the latest style gowns and the Houston carnival. Deacon Longface is going to be there, ready to take the train for Houston. While waiting for his train he will not miss the opportunity to preach his little, long-faced sermon to a group of giggling girls. Possibly the wedding about to take place in our midst has been kept a secret, but nevertheless there is going to be one, and the bride and groom will be at the Union Depot Friday night to take the keers for their wedding tower. 291

Coulter has one of the fullest lines of boots and shoes to be found in this section, and for the hunting season, now at hand, he is especially well equipped for the man who loves the dog and the gun. A most serviceable all-leather bootie, with reinforced shank, is offered at $3.50; a visceralized reindeer boot, with 18-inch leg, is offered at $6.50; while he has a special 16-inch leg hunting boot at $5. These are all guaranteed goods. In fact, everything at Coulter's is sold on a guarantee.

Don't forget the Cozy, new pictures every night. 295

DID BAILEY SCRATCH TICKET?

The report that Senator Bailey scratched a Democratic ticket day before yesterday at Gainesville will have to be accepted with a large grain of salt. They are in the habit of telling things on Senator Bailey, you know, that ain't so. Bailey is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat.—Austin Statesman.

But Bailey may have found the names of one of those "hyenas" on the ticket, you know, and surely you would not expect Bailey to vote for him.—Palestine Herald.

Since it is not probable that Senator Bailey will ever again be a candidate before the people of Texas it makes little difference whether he scratched the ticket or not. Let us have peace.

JOHN M. CALDWELL,
The Jeweler.

SHERIFF KILLS J. H. MERRIN.

Victim Unarmed.—Cause of Tragedy Not Stated.

Caldwell, Tex., Nov. 10.—At 12:30 o'clock yesterday, and just as the northbound passenger train on the Santa Fe was pulling into the yards at the depot, Sheriff L. W. Henslee shot and instantly killed James Hunt Merrin. Merrin had purchased a ticket for Fort Worth and was going off on that train on business of some kind in Fort Worth. The two men met near the bus, a few words were exchanged and three shots rang out from the sheriff's pistol and Merrin fell to the ground with two of the balls through his breast and one through the arm at the wrist. In one hand of the dead man was a handkerchief.

A big crowd at once gathered and the sheriff at once surrendered to the officers, in whose custody he now is. The exact cause of the trouble seems hard to come at, and as far as the news on the streets is concerned, seems hard to get. It is stated on good authority though that there were former threats made, and that when the two men met a few words were exchanged, and that deceased made a movement as for a gun, and the shooting took place.

Justice of the Peace Heslep and Constable E. A. Ellis were there on the grounds in a few moments and held the inquest. An examination of the dead man's body revealed the fact that he had no gun on him, and his two knives were in his pockets, shut. Deceased was about 30 years old and was a man of bright intellect and had done considerable literary work on various papers, the Galveston News, Globe-Democrat and Houston Post. His wife and a little girl, Menia, about 12 years old, and his aged mother are prostrated with grief over the terrible calamity. Sheriff Henslee is one of the most conservative men in the county, and regrets that he had to take the action he did, but feels that he is perfectly justified in so doing.

OUR SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Represent the highest possible achievement in clothes making

Anybody can print clever illustrations of clothing, but we can show you the clothing itself—clothing that will look even better on a live man than it does in the illustrations.

You don't have to fit our clothing—our clothing fits you. They are made to fit—and are full of character, snap, and style.

The models this season are simply elegant, the Swagger Styles for the young fellow, and a more conservative cut for the business man.

Every good, honest fabric that is fashionable is represented in our peerless collection of Suits and Overcoats.

At $15. up

We honestly believe we give the best Suit and Overcoat values ever offered in Bryan.

All we ask is an inspection of our stock—the clothes will please you, and our manner of business will appeal to every man who wants a "square deal."

Our positive guarantee goes with every Suit or Overcoat we sell.

Gone to Santa Anna.
Mr. Lon Anthony and family, Mr. Henry Padgett and family, Mr. Pete Harrison and family, Rev. Summerfield Baker and family comprised a party of thirty-one people from the Tabor community that left here Tuesday for Santa Anna, Coleman county, where they will in future reside. These will be followed today (Wednesday) by Mr. Ed Cameron and Mr. Will Baker, who remained over to load the stock and other property on box cars, which will leave today. The party chartered a special passenger car and left over the I. & G. N. at noon Tuesday.
Mr. Cameron made a crop out in that country the past season, and while he does not claim for it all the advantages of the promised land, still he has made money and was sufficiently impressed in its favor to advise his friends here to try the west. Mr. Cameron states that fine crops were made in the Santa Anna country, and that there will be plenty of cotton to pick until after the first of the year.

Hard to Spell.

The Waco Times-Herald reprints this from a New York paper: The other night in an upper West Side home there was a spelling bee at which some forty guests fell down. The hostess offered the following sentence as a test: "It is an agreeable sight to perceive the unparalleled embarrassment of an harassed peddler attempting to guage the symmetry of a peeled onion which a sibyl had stabbed with a poniard, regardless of the innuendoes of the lilies of a carnellian hue." The president of a college made five errors in writing it; a learned clergyman made seven, and an eminent teacher and lecturer made six.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Weather forecast: Wednesday, cooler; fresh south winds.

A shipment of goods for Mr. M. E. Greathouse, merchant at Pitts Bridge, was sent out from this point yesterday.

Mr. Fritz Severa and Miss Eula Hollik were married at St. Joseph's Catholic church yesterday. The couple live at Smetana.

An unimportant scrap between an A. & M. student and one of the Varsity men was pulled off as a side issue at Houston Monday. Neither of the combatants was damaged to any extent.

Two tickets were sold here yesterday for New York by the Houston & Texas Central office to a dissatisfied farmer of German descent, who is leaving here with his wife. They will travel via the Morgan line.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Emily Peale, late of Bryan, now of Dallas, to Mr. George Andrew Adams of Bryan, to take place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emily Peale, 308 Cole avenue, Dallas, on Thursday, November 19, at 8:30 p. m.

Houston seems to be an irresistible magnet to Bryan people. One hundred and nineteen tickets were sold for that point by the Houston & Texas Central ticket agent here Tuesday morning for the 2:30 a. m. southbound train, and 221 tickets were sold for the football excursion train the day before. A cheap rate was in effect for the southbound train yesterday afternoon, and it carried out a good number from here.

FORMER SENATOR CARMACK KILLED.

Edward Ward Carmack, former United States senator of Tennessee, was killed in a street duel in Nashville late Monday afternoon by Robin Cooper, a young lawyer. Carmack was editor of the Tennessean and had severely criticised Cooper's father, which was the cause of the tragedy. Senator Carmack was one of the most brilliant public men of the South and he was known and esteemed all over the United States. His untimely death is the result of bitter factional politics.

Mr. J. R. Smith of Reliance was in the city Monday.

JORDAN'S IDEAS.

Presents His Views and Gives Advice Also.

Memphis, Nov. 10.—Hon. Harvie Jordan made an address at the cotton conference in which he said that it was indeed fitting that this great cotton conference should be assembled in this, the largest and most prominent interior cotton market in the world.

"We have assembled here for a purpose which should appeal to the hearts and minds of every loyal and practical southerner. That purpose is to safeguard and protect the great staple crop of the south from the artificial and depressing influences of federated interests which operate beyond the confines of our territory to the detriment of every business interest in this section of America. We are face to face with a serious influence and whether we arise equal to the emergency and protect our interests as men of brain and business sagacity or whether we will indifferently accept the situation and parade before the world our voluntary weakness, is the issue which presents itself to this convention."

Mr. Jordan said that raw cotton is the only great staple commodity in the world today which is selling below the cost of production, notwithstanding the fact that it represents one of the world's greatest necessities.

"That this great staple should ever sell at a price to the cotton grower at less than ten cents per pound is a reflection upon the manhood and intelligence of the southern people."

"If the cotton growers, bankers, merchants and allied business interests of the south will and determine that the price of spot cotton shall go back to ten cents before the month of November passes that price will be paid, the financial future of the south will be saved and not a spindle in the world will be injured."

"I appeal to you, my countrymen, and through you to every loyal and patriotic southerner to rouse yourselves from the lethargy of the present and by your united concert of action throw off the shackles of low-priced cotton and defend the great monopoly you possess from the everlasting greed of those who would take their 'pound of flesh' though the bleeding victim dies."

"Out of the multitude of wisdom and conservatism here assembled let there be positive and definite plans formulated to demand and force the price of spot cotton to a minimum basis of ten cents per pound now and all time to come or else stop at once the movement of every bale of cotton to market from this crop and restrict your cotton acreage in the spring of 1909. Let us meet the issue like men and solve our problems by the adoption of sound business principles."

Regarding night riding in the cotton belt Mr. Jordan said: "Let the seat of condemnation on all forms of lawlessness go out from this body of southern men that will echo and re-echo from Virginia to the Rio Grande. The very thought of night riding or the posting of gins should have no place in the minds or hearts of the south are people. The ginner of the south are in no way responsible for the low price of cotton and never will be. They should not be made the sufferers or even threatened with the loss of their gin plants because they simply provide the medium through which raw cotton is converted into a commercial form."

"President Jordan called the attention of the convention to the boll weevil menace and stated that if the march of this insect was not stayed the problem of solving cotton production is a matter of grave doubt and uncertainty."

Mr. Jordan recommended the formation of a chain of warehouses constructed at the leading interior market points and at the ports where cotton can be stored and insured and receipts issued against it, which will be acceptable as gilt-edge collateral for short time loans by all the leading financial institutions in this country and in Europe. In this connection he also recommended the establishment in the south of a great centralized cotton bank with sufficient capital to make it the annual clearing house for the cotton crop during the selling season and the medium of cheap loans through the spring and growing season.

He also called attention to the necessity for a reform in ginning, baling and handling of spot cotton, claiming that by indifference in this matter the cotton growers are annually losing millions of dollars.

In conclusion, Mr. Jordan said that bankers all over the south have written him in the past few weeks that they are in sympathy with the movement to advance the price of cotton and they will give the cotton growers all the financial assistance in their power to tie up the sale of cotton until the fight is won.

Collide on Curve.

Woodstock, Va., Nov. 10.—In a head on collision between two freight trains, two miles north of here on the Southern Railway Engineer Amos and Johnson and Fireman T. G. Jones were killed and Engineer D. Tuck and Conductor E. N. Rober injured but not seriously. The trains came upon each other while running fast around a curve.

Praised by Depew.

New York, Nov. 10.—In speaking of the tragic death of ex-Senator Carmack at Nashville, Senator Depew said that he was very much shocked by the occurrence and added: "He was an exceedingly brilliant man. He was more than a debater. In fact, there was a certain element of genius about him. The last thing he did in the senate was a filibustering speech against some measure that his party did not want to go through. Of all the many filibustering speeches I have ever heard that was the most brilliant. He was a comparatively young man and the Democratic party has suffered a great loss."
